

SKYSERVICE LEADERSHIP TEAM

Our leadership team is comprised of leaders in the industry and their discipline. Collectively, Skyservice's leadership team holds over 120 years of aviation experience.

Benjamin Murray
President &
Chief Executive Officer

Benjamin Murray, Skyservice's president & chief executive officer, is a recognized thought leader and business aviation visionary. Prior to becoming the CEO and an investment partner at Skyservice in 2020, Murray spent more than a decade at NetJets, where he held the president & chief operating officer position and also served as president & chief executive officer of Executive Jet Management, a fully owned subsidiary of NetJets. In that position, he doubled the company's profitability by enhancing the breadth and quality of its aircraft management, charter, and MRO services and strengthening its market position. Murray also served as president for Landmark Aviation, where he built the company into the second-largest FBO, MRO and aircraft management company in the United States. Most recently, Murray was founder and managing member of Earth Air, LLC.
