Aircraft Management

Ownership made effortless

Skyservice manages a large, diverse fleet of business aircraft, and we guarantee an unmatched commitment to the safety, security and privacy of our clients. Skyservice is pleased to offer an extraordinary, outsourced aircraft solution for discerning clients. For more than 36 years, aircraft owners choose Skyservice for management services because it makes good business sense. Our management services programs create a seamless approach to aircraft ownership. Members benefit from the highest level of client service wrapped in bespoke amenities and tailored experiences.

We offer two levels of managed services programs, allowing you to select the level of service and support required for a hassle-free aircraft ownership experience. Choose between Apex, our full aircraft management solution, or Velocity, our lighter, supportive aircraft solution. Apex members choose Skyservice to manage their aircraft maintenance, flight operations, crew staffing and more. Our Velocity solution is best suited for owners who want to pick and choose the areas they need additional support. It also includes enrollment of your aircraft into our managed Charter program*, which provides opportunities to offset some of the costs of aircraft ownership when you're not traveling.
